REPORT OF THE
MANAGING COMMITTEE

OF THE ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY, FOR THE YEAR 1860.

"The Committee of the St. George's Society appointed at the Annual Meeting in 1860, have now at the close of their year of office to give an account of their stewardship:

"The year that has just passed, your Committee feel will be regarded in the annals of the Society as one of peculiar interest. The benevolent action of the Society has been well sustained, the promotion of a social compact among Englishmen and their descendants in the land of their adoption has been fostered, and although loyalty was ever the watchword of the Society, it has in the year 1860 had an opportunity, which may never again recur, of evincing that loyalty in a manner, which, whenever the recollection is aroused will cause a glow of pleasure to kindle in the breast of every member of the Society.

"In proceeding to detail the expenditure of the benevolent fund of the Society during the past year, your Committee feel that it will have a useful effect to embody in their report some account of the manner in which the relief of the Society is disbursed, the labor involved, the caution used, and the efforts made, that while the deserving are never "sent empty away," to the deserving only shall the bounty of the Society be disbursed.

"The Committee of your Society meet every Friday throughout the year, at half-past five o'clock, and sit generally till half-past seven or eight, examining the applications for relief which present themselves. The cases are taken down in the relief book in the following order: the name of the applicant, the occupation or trade, whether married or single, and if married the number of his or her family, with particulars of the members of the family able to work and assist the parents, and of those still in infancy, the place in England or Wales from whence they emigrated, the date of their emigration to Canada, particulars of their employment or non-employment since, the cause of distress which leads to their application to the society, and last, not least, a recommendation from some one to whom they are known (the Clergyman of their Church preferred) that the case is one really deserving of relief. These particulars being noted, the applicant retires while the Committee deliberate; if satisfied a sum of money or an order for food or fuel is given; if not, one of the Committee undertakes personally to visit and report on the case. At these meetings the applications are frequently very numerous, but on no occasion, although their sittings have at times been much protracted have they risen until every case presenting itself has been disposed of. In addition to these weekly meetings of the Committee some one member has undertaken from month to month what may be termed the daily relief—that is holding the relief book at his private residence or place of business where urgent cases which cannot be deferred until the Friday meeting receive his attention, are temporarily relieved, and are afterwards reported to the weekly meeting. An alphabetical index of all cases thus relieved is kept; an applicant therefore attending a second or third time is at once recognised, and the continuation of their distress becomes then the subject of inquiry. The Records thus kept are handed from Committee to Committee, and form a valuable aid to those taking office for the first time. Your Committee in giving these details would merely add that your society will at once recognise the delicacy attaching to their office, and they have a deep sense of satisfaction while reflecting on the large number of cases which have come under their investigation during the past year in believing that none left the Committee Room without feeling that their distress was sacredly confided to brother Englishmen, who in disbursing your bounty endeavored at the same time to throw a kindly veil over the suffering of the recipient.

"The number of applicants whose cases have been thus examined during the past year amount to several hundred, but your Committee do not feel, that after these details it will be necessary to enumerate in their report any of the names of the parties. The Relief Book itself is laid on the table.

"The above particulars have more immediate relation to direct pecuniary relief. Your Committee must also name another mode of aid, which your society has been able to extend very beneficially, namely, assisting by passes on the Railways, parties who cannot find work in Toronto to places where work offers, and on this head they must express the obligations the Society is under to all the Railway Companies who kindly and generously contribute to the bounty, and aid the objects of the Society by conveying to their destination at half price any party presenting the order of the Society.

"Another manner in which the Society has been able to relieve distress has been in recommending cases for admission into the General Hospital, and your Committee are very sensible of the kind attention with which their recommendations have been always received.

"Under the head of relief your Committee must lastly particularize in their report the distribution of English cheer on Christmas Eve to poor English families. The success attending their efforts in this behalf was most gratifying, and the special collection taken up for the purpose, after meeting the requirements of every applicant, left a balance of $111.24 to be carried to the general fund of benevolence. The following are the details of this truly English distribution:—

Collected in money.	$397 81
Donations in meat, bread and vegetables, valued at.....	239 05
Total.....	$636 86
Distributed, say,
Beef, Mutton, &c.	6,000 lbs.
Bread and Flour	2,500 "
Potatoes	9,600 "
Other Vegetables, &c.....	1,500 "
Total	19,600 lbs.
Valued at $525 62.

"The number of families relieved was nearly 400, comprising by the particulars recorded on examining the cases, some 1,495 souls.

"The distribution took place in one of the stores under the Romain Buildings kindly lent to the Society for the occasion by the Hon. Mr. Attorney General McDonald. In an appended sheet are given the names of those who subscribed in money and kind, and while any attempt to particularize individual energy on an occasion where the energies of all were most pleasurably displayed may be considered invidious, the manual labor given by Mr. William Grainger, Butcher, of the St. Lawrence Market, in addition to a most handsome donation, should be named for the especial recognition and thanks of the Society.

"The Christmas cheer was generally distributed to English families, but after such were relieved the Committee extended the boon on a limited scale to a number of other applicants; thus while verifying the proverb that "charity begins at home," in this instance not allowing it also to end there.

"Having thus set out the disbursements of the Society in the cause of benevolence, your committee now come to an enumeration of the funds collected for that and other purposes, and an account of the manner and sources of their collection.

"On this head, as first in order, your Committee record the services in the Cathedral on St. George's Day, which produced an offertory collection of $205 25. In alluding to these services your committee feel that the thanks of the Society are in an especial manner due to their respected chaplains, the Rev. Dr. Beaven who intoned the services, and the Rev. Dr. Scadding for his eloquent and appropriate address at the morning service, and to the Rev. E. K. Kendall (then Professor at Trinity College, but who has since returned to England) for his impressive sermon at the Evening Service and to the other clergymen who assisted at the services. Of the musical portion of the services, there was but one opinion expressed which was embodied in the following resolution presented to Mr. Carter at the time, and which your committee here reiterate.

"That the thanks of the St. George's Society are in an especial manner due and are hereby cordially tendered to their esteemed life Member, John Carter, Esq., the Organist and Conductor of the Choir of the Cathedral Church of St. James, Toronto, and to the Ladies and Gentleman composing the Choir for their kind aid in the perfect and solemn Church Services performed in the Cathedral on St. George's Day, the 23rd April 1860, and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. Carter and to the Ladies and Gentlemen of the choir."

"On this occasion, the Society assembled at their Rooms on Yonge Street, and thence with their Banners and Regalia proceeded to the Cathedral. At the morning service a large Congregation was present and at the close of the services the Apostolic Benediction was pronounced by the venerable and respected Bishop of Toronto. The evening attendance was still more numerous, it being estimated that not less than 5,000 were present within the sacred walls. Your Committee earnestly recommend a continuance of this observance of St. George's Day as well calculated to evince to the World that the proceedings of the St. George's Society are undertaken in reliance on, and to the glory of Him from whom all good counsels and all just works can alone proceed.

Your Committee would next record the annual excursion of the Society which took place on the 31st July. Ample preparations having been made, a large party of excursionists proceeded by early train on the Northern Railway to Bell Ewart, whence by the steamer "Morning," they proceeded to Jackson's Point, on Lake Simcoe, at a short distance from which, in beautifully wooded grounds, kindly placed at their disposal by Col. Boucher, by whom, together with Mr. Sheppard, and many other of the neighboring gentry, they were most hospitably welcomed; a day of thoroughly English recreation, or in the words of the advertisement a "genuine English Pic Nic" was enjoyed, and the result of which, deducting expenses from receipts, was an addition of $50.52 to the funds of the Society. Such re-unions are in a special manner calculated to keep up a kindly feeling among English families. A dinner is almost necessarily confined to one sex, but on happy occasions like the one now recorded, the fair daughters of England can also listen to a recital of the objects of the Society and thenceforward encourage her sons to persevere in their accomplishment.

The next matter to be recorded is the part taken by the Society in the reception of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales on his late auspicious visit to Toronto. With a view to a becoming participation in this great event of future Canadian history, your Society were specially called together at an early day, and after due deliberation decided on the acquisition of new Banners and Ensigns to be then first unfurled. These Banners which now grace our room reflect high credit on the designer and painter, Mr. Todd; the first bearing on the chief side a spirited representation of St. George's victory over the dragon, as taken from Wyon's beautiful medallion, and on the reverse the three Lions of England. The second banner having on the chief side the Plume of the Prince of Wales, and on the reverse the Star and Garter. There were also procured a complete set of national Banners, comprising the Red White and Blue Ensigns; the Union Jack, and the St. George's Cross; nor were the jewels of the Society overlooked, a new and beautiful jewel having been procured for the President, and the set of jewels for the other office bearers being made perfect and complete, but the enthusiasm of the Society did not stop here, for among the most beautiful arches erected in the city was the one raised by the Sons of St. George, while the address prepared by the President and presented to His Royal Highness, further testified the loyalty of the Society.

"Thus furnished with ensigns and regalia the St. George's Society took its place in that great procession, admitted to be unrivalled for extent and enthusiasm, which welcomed our future Sovereign, the beloved son of our beloved Queen, Albert Edward Prince of Wales, in his triumphal entry into Toronto on the 7th September, 1860, an event to be witnessed to be thoroughly conceived; an event which will be a lasting reminiscence of joy to every loyal Englishman, and of which this slight record, embodied in their Report, the committee feel your society will appreciate. The Address presented to His Royal Highness is also annexed to their Report.

"Before concluding their report your committee desire to bring before the Society a subject which has frequently occupied their own deliberations, and the importance of which they deem so great that they embody it in their report for the future consideration of the Society. It is the acquisition at the earliest possible day of suitable rooms in some good locality to bear the name of the Society, and where both its committee and public meetings can be held. Your committee in drawing attention to this matter, desire at the same time to record their thorough approval of the high character attaching to the "Globe Hotel." where the meetings of the Society have been so long held, and from the worthy proprietors of which your committee have to acknowledge the greatest courtesy, attention and assistance in all matters connected with the Society, but they are deeply impressed with the conviction that our association never can take its proper place as a Benevolent Society while its meetings are held at an hotel, and that many will be induced to become members and give valuable aid, so soon as the Society acquires its "St. George's Hall" in some separate building. The expense attending the acquisition of such a room need not be considerable. With the banners and ensigns of the Society it could be readily and appropriately decorated, and but for the various other calls on the liberality of the members during the past year, it was the hope of the Committee that they might have initiated some step towards the accomplishment of this change—as it is, they warmly commend it to the Society.

"Finally, your Committee desire to appeal urgently to members of the Society to pay up arrears of dues and for punctuality in paying the annual subscription into the hands of the Treasurer. A reference to the balance sheet appended to their report will at once shew that the receipts of the past year have been chiefly made up of sums raised by what they may term extraordinary efforts, while the ordinary dues of members remain unpaid. The collector of the Society has now a long list of dues in arrear in his hands for collection, and it is earnestly hoped that when this Report is read, and the efforts of the Society well considered, their successors in office will be encouraged in their labors of the ensuing year by an immediate and hearty response to this appeal.

SAMUEL B. HARMAN, President.

JOHN P. FULLJAMES, Secretary.

H. R. H. THE PRINCE OF WALES.

To the Most High Puissant and Illustrious Prince ALBERT EDWARD, Prince of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Prince of Wales, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Cobourg and Gotha, Great Steward of Scotland, Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay, Earl of Chester, Carrick, and Dublin, Baron of Renfrew, and Lord of the Isles, K. G., &c. &c. &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS,

The St. George's Society of Toronto crave permission to approach your Royal Highness on this auspicious occasion, to express their devoted loyalty to their beloved Queen and their homage to your Royal Highness, as the illustrious Heir to the Crown of that mighty empire "on which the sun never sets."

In the progress of your Royal Highness through this great dependency of the British throne, your Royal Highness has witnessed that unity among the subjects of her gracious Majesty who have made Canada their home, and has received that undivided outpouring of Canadian love and loyalty which may render it matter of surprise that Societies possessing features of individual nationality exist amongst us. May then the St. George's Society of Toronto, an association composed as well of Englishmen, as of the sons of the great Principality from which your Royal Highness takes your august title of "Prince of Wales," be permitted to quote from their charter of incorporation the main objects of their organization, namely, "the affording relief to such natives of England and Wales, in this country, as from sickness or other causes have fallen into distress." Such an object we feel assured will excite the sympathy of your Royal Highness, as England's future Sovereign—as the Welshman's noble Prince.

But while alluding to benevolence as the main object of their association, the St. George's Society of Toronto also seek, by periodical commemorations, to keep alive the remembrance of the achievements of their forefathers under the banner of their Patron Saint, and on such occasions it is their especial pride to know how closely the time honored cry of "St. George for merrie England," the adopted motto of the Society, is associated not only with their beloved fatherland and its numberless public and charitable institutions, but still more with the ancient residence of its kings—the title of their beloved Queen, as Sovereign of the "Order of the Garter," reminding them that Windsor's proud castle became, on its restoration by William of Wykeham, the cradle of England's most illustrious order of knighthood, and that an enduring alliance was then inaugurated between the nobility of birth and the nobility of virtue in its hall and chapel of "St. George."

That the same power that guided the spear of the valiant Knight of Christendom may ever be the guardian and defender of your Royal Highness, is the fervent prayer of the St. George's Society of Toronto.

SAMUEL B. HARMAN,
President.

JOHN P. FULLJAMES, Secretary.

The foregoing Address, having been graciously received at the Levee held by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, on the 8th September, was acknowledged by his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, as follows:

REPLY.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Toronto, Sept. 8, 1860.

SIR,—I have the honor of conveying the thanks of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, for the Address presented to him by the St. George's Society of Toronto.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,
NEWCASTLE.

To S. B. HARMAN, Esq.,
&c. &c. &c.,
President St. George's Society.

ADDRESS PRESENTED BY THE
ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY OF TORONTO,

TO

SAMUEL BICKERTON HARMAN, Esq., B.C.L., &c. &c. &c.,

On his Retiring from the Office of President.

"SIR,—We, the members of the St. George's Society of the City of Toronto, upon the occasion of our annual general meeting, desire to express our appreciation of the able and efficient manner with which, during the past year, you have occupied the position of President.

"When leaving the home of their fathers the sons of St. George, ever jealous of their peculiar characteristics, and desiring to maintain their cherished nationality, were formed into a Society for the maintenance of social and friendly intercourse with their countrymen, and associated in that kindly compact for the performance of charitable and benevolent deeds, so that in a distant and strange land the wanderer might find a home, the stranger a friend, and the bereaved widow and helpless orphan be saved from the blast of a cold and inhospitable world. These praiseworthy purposes have never been lost sight of by their successors, and while we submit that, as an Englishman, you must have felt grateful pride in being placed at the head of a community, having in view the furtherance of such disinterested and laudable objects, we assure you that we shall ever advert to your tenor of office with a gratifying knowledge that we were presided over by one who, as a scholar and a gentleman, portrayed in a courteous and amiable disposition the noble characteristics of an English worthy.

"The year which is just terminated will be regarded by the Society as the most eventful since its formation, it was signalized by an unprecedented influx to its members; it was rendered memorable by the visit of the first Englishman of the land—our illustrious Prince and future King, and it was crowned by an act of charity that gladdened the hearts and cheered the homes, not only of our distressed Countrymen, but extended its influence to the relief of the poor, and indigent, irrespective of country, creed or calling. Upon these occasions, and on many minor, but not unimportant ones, we were always supported by your energy and judgment, and we desire to express our regret that you now relinquish that position which has reflected such honor on yourself and credit to the Society.

"We would solicit the acceptance of the accompanying retiring officer's medal, assuring you of our hearty desire that you may be long spared to hold it as a token of the gratitude and regard now extended to you by your countrymen, and to wear it as a member of that Society whose every effort will be to preserve intact our national supremacy, to support and maintain our free and British institutions, and by the assistance of Him who is the author of all good, righteously to perform those Divine precepts so mercifully established and so forcibly enjoined, to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, comfort the sick, relieve the oppressed, and visit the fatherless children and widows in their affliction."

The above Address was signed by the Office Bearers, of the past year, and presented at the Annual Meeting, on the 18th January, 1861.
